Find the perfect speaker for your next event with H Speakers, an initiative from the Massachusetts Health and Hospital Association.

Ateev Mehrotra, M.D., M.P.H.

Focus:

Interventions to Decrease Costs | Improving Quality of Care | Innovations in Delivery | Quality Measurement | Consumerism in Patient Decision Making

Education:

Masters of Public Health, University of California
Masters of Science in Epidemiology, Harvard School of Public Health

Background:

Ateev Mehrotra, M.D., MPH is an associate professor in the Department of Healthcare Policy at Harvard Medical School and a hospitalist at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center.Ateev's research focuses on interventions to to decrease costs and improve quality of care. Much of his work has focused on innovations in delivery. He is also interested in the role of consumerism and whether price transparency and public reporting of quality can impact patient decision making. His work has also focused on quality measurement, including how natural language processing can be used to analyze the data in electronic health records to measure the quality of care.

He completed his residency in internal medicine and pediatrics at Massachusetts General Hospital and Children's Hospital of Boston. His clinical work has been both as a primary care physician and as an adult and pediatric hospitalist. He also received formal research training with a master's of public health from the University of California, Berkeley and a master's of science in epidemiology from the Harvard School of Public Health. In 2008, he received the Milton W. Hamolsky Award for Outstanding Scientific Presentation by a Junior Faculty Member from the Society of General Internal Medicine. In 2013, he received the Alice S. Hersh New Investigator Award from Academy Health for health services researchers who, early in their careers, show exceptional promise. Ateev's areas of expertise include pricing transparency in Healthcare, Telemedicine, and Retail Healthcare.

To book Ateev Mehrotra or for more information on finding the right speaker for your event please contact us on our website at www.hspeakers.com or call us at 857.770.1281.

HS